Reading Skills: Making Inferences

A. What can you infer from the statements below? (More than one idea is possible.)

1. Four hundred million people—40 percent of India's population—watch important cricket games on TV.

What can you infer about cricket in India?

2. The longest tennis game lasted eleven hours and five minutes.

What can you infer about the two tennis players in the longest tennis game?

3. Barcelona pays Lionel Messi over 10 million US Dollars annually or it's roughly 132 billion Rupiah per month.

What can you infer about Lionel Messi?

4. According to the South Korean government report, the South Korea's total fertility rate dropped to 0.98—or less than one baby per woman.

What can you infer about South Korea?

5. The Indonesian capital of Jakarta is home to 10 million people but it is also one of the fastest-sinking cities in the world. If this goes unchecked, parts of the megacity could be entirely submerged by 2050, say researchers.

What can you infer about Jakarta?
